

TECHVOLT

Privacy Policy

General privacy information for users of the TechVolt electronic components e-commerce website.

1. Introduction

This Privacy Policy explains how TechVolt may collect, use, store, and protect information provided by users of the website.

2. Information We May Collect

- Account information such as name, email address, and other registration details.
- Order information such as products purchased, order details, and delivery information.
- Contact-form information such as name, email address, subject, and message.
- Technical information such as browser type, device information, and basic usage data where implemented by the website.

3. How We Use Information

- To create and manage user accounts.
- To process orders and provide order-related services.
- To respond to customer questions and support requests.
- To improve website functionality, products, and user experience.
- To maintain website security and prevent misuse.

4. Cookies

TechVolt may use cookies or similar technologies where required for features such as login sessions, shopping carts, preferences, or basic website functionality. Users can manage cookies through their browser settings, although disabling certain cookies may affect website features.

5. Information Sharing

TechVolt does not intend to sell users' personal information. Information may be shared with service providers only when necessary to operate the website or fulfill a requested service, subject to the project's implementation.

6. Data Security

Reasonable technical and organizational measures should be used to protect user information. However, no online system can guarantee absolute security.

7. Data Retention

Information should be retained only for as long as reasonably necessary for the purpose for which it was collected, legal requirements, account management, order records, or legitimate business needs.

8. User Rights

Depending on applicable law, users may have rights relating to access, correction, deletion, or other handling of their personal information. Requests can be made through the Contact Us page.

9. Children's Privacy

TechVolt is not specifically directed toward children. Users should provide personal information only when permitted to do so and with appropriate consent where required.

10. Third-Party Links

TechVolt may contain links to external websites or services. TechVolt is not responsible for the privacy practices or content of third-party sites.

11. Changes to This Policy

This Privacy Policy may be updated when website features, data practices, or legal requirements change. The updated version should be published on the website with an appropriate effective date.

12. Contact

Questions about this Privacy Policy can be submitted through the TechVolt Contact Us page.

Note: This document is a general project template prepared for the TechVolt academic e-commerce project. It is not legal advice and should be reviewed and customized before use by a real commercial business.
